Navigating the Social Security Disability (SSD) claims process can be overwhelming and stressful, especially if you are facing a disability that affects your ability to work and earn a living. The experienced legal team at Sphinx Legal understands the complexities of the SSD system and is committed to guiding you through every step of the process. With our expertise and dedication, we can help you advance your SSD claim and obtain the benefits you deserve.

What is SSD and Who Qualifies?

Social Security Disability is a federal program that provides monthly benefits to individuals who are unable to work due to a physical or mental impairment. To qualify for SSD, you must meet certain criteria, including:

* You must have a medically determinable physical or mental impairment that is expected to last for at least 12 months or result in death. * Your impairment must prevent you from performing any substantial gainful activity (SGA). SGA is defined as work that earns more than a certain amount of money per month. * You must have worked and paid Social Security taxes for a sufficient amount of time.

The SSD Application Process

Filing an SSD claim can be a complex and time-consuming process. It involves gathering medical records, completing extensive paperwork, and undergoing a medical examination. The initial application process can take several months to complete, and if your claim is denied, you may have to file an appeal.
